

NASA Exhibit LAUNCH PARTY

The Yankee Air Museum will be unveiling our first-ever traveling exhibit

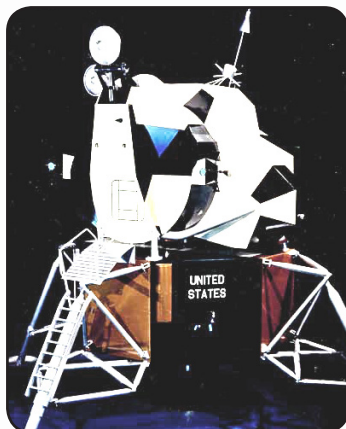

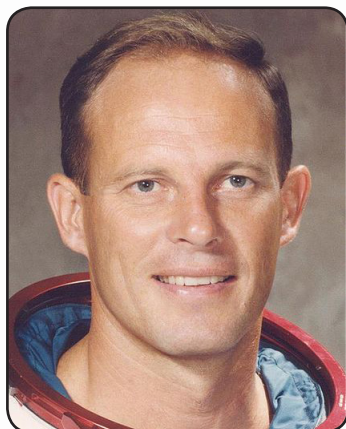

NASA Fly Me to the Moon

Saturday, February 9th from 5pm-9pm

Admission to the event is FREE and open to the public.

Project Apollo is an exciting educational exhibit that will be displayed at the museum February through May 2013. Activity stations include:

- Interactive Science Experiments
- A Shuttle Repair Station
- Astronomy Observation Station
- Moonwalk
- Velcro Wall
- Bungee Run
- The chance to fly our education simulator in a NASA F-18 over Cape Canaveral
- A one hour photograph session with Jack Lousma, a former astronaut and Michigan native will take place from 6:15 pm - 7:15 pm
- Light refreshments will be provided

FREE GOODIE BAGS to the first 200 kids through the door!

For more information contact
Rachel Krumwiede
Director of Education
734.483.4030 x227
rachel.krumwiede@yankeeamuseum.org

